SACO FAMILIES

-E. P. BURNHAM-

A-G

The undersigned wishes to preserve in the following pages, such items of history, biography and genealogy relating to localities and persons in Saco and Biddeford, as may aid in the preparation of a History of the towns since the close of Folsom's History in 1830. During the eleven years of his residence here, many have died, who could have contributed much interesting information. Having but very little time to spare from his business, and that consisting of odd minutes only, he will write "line upon line," hoping that the aggregate may be of service.

Woburn, Mass. Nov. 20, '95.

Hon. E. P. Burnham,

Saco, Me.

Dear Sir:

Your favor of Oct. 18 came duly to hand. I thank you very much for taking so much trouble to look up records of the Cotton family.

I have since seen a copy of the record in Edward C. Cotton's bible, which was about forty years ago in the possession of Mrs. Abigail Clark his daughter. I give below a copy of the record, and you will notice that there is no mention of Benjamin, though the others (John, Abigail and Thomas) whom Mr. Jordan told you of, are given.

Record.

Edward C. born Dec. 19, 1773 died Mar. 19, 1837.

Jane (wife) " Aug. 5, 1781 " Feb. 15, 1841.

John " Apr. 17, 1806 " Jan. 8, 1843.

at East Thomaston.

Abigail Taylor, b. Mar. 29, 1809, m. Alfred M. Clark, painter, lived at Dover N. H.

Edward Robinson, b. Feb. 24, 1815, lived at Lancaster, Mass.

Thomas Cutt, b. Sept. 4, 1819, d. Nov. 1843.

Sarah Hannah b. Oct. 18, 1823, d. Aug. 20, 1825.

I find a memo. also saying that "Edward's first wife was a widow Robinson originally a Jellison," from which I infer that Jane ---- (above) was his second wife. Possibly Benjamin was a son of the first marriage. Have written John Bradbury Cotton, Esq. but no reply as yet.

Yours very truly,

F. E. Cotton.

Mr. G. had three brothers, Wm. H., a tailor, Henry, Napoleon. Their father, a shipmaster, settled on a farm in Hollis.

GEGENHEIMER, Jacob was born in Wurtemburg Oct. 11, 1823. At the age of fifteen he came to this country, landed at Portland, and started out to make his own way. He lived first in Scarboro; then he came to Saco and entered the employ of the York corporation. Here he remained for fifteen years, rising to the post of overseer, as has been stated. From Saco he moved to Three Rivers, Mass., where he was overseer in a mill. He returned to Saco, only for three months, and was soon promoted to the post of superintendent of a mill at Taunton. Here he remained until November 1886, when he and Mrs. Gegenheimer returned to Old Orchard, where they have since resided on a place which has been in her family for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Gegenheimer were married Dec. 12, 1847. They have five sons and daughters living, all of whom are married; and twelve grandchildren. Of their children, Jacob m Julia Ann Patterson

John, the oldest, resides in Derry, N. H.

Ella, the second, is Mrs. George H. Burt of Taunton, Mass.

Edward resides in Lowell.

William resides in Taunton.

Charles resides in Lawrence.

GEGENHEIMER (Continued)

Mrs. Gegenheimer, whose maiden name is Julia Ann Patterson, was born in Old Orchard on the same spot where she now resides, May 20, 1828. She lived there until her marriage, at the age of nineteen, and has since traveled about with her husband until they finally settled in the old homestead. This structure was struck by lightning two years ago.

The family to which Mrs. Gegenheimer belongs is one of the oldest in this vicinity her ancestors having early settled in Saco. A niece, Mrs. Rich of Washington wrote a sketch of the family for the anniversary, of which the leading points are as follows:

This is entirely erroneous

The family is of Scandinavian origin, and the first form of the name was Peterson. About the end of the sixteenth century, they settled in Glasgow, Scotland, and in 1650, two of the family, William and John, were driven by religious persecution to the north of Ireland. Some of their descendants settled in 1718 at Londonderry, N. H., others in New York, Pennsylvania and Baltimore.

About the same date, 1718, Robert John, the progenitor of the Old Orchard Pattersons, settled at the Ferry, where he became ferryman. He had first visited the place on a coasting vessel in 1696. He had two sons and two daughters. He bought of John Gibson two hundred acres of land at Sanderson's point, and built the homestead there. Robert, one of his sons, lived there, while John, the other, probably built the old homestead, on the site of the Gegenheimer's present residence.

The two boys married wives from Londonderry, N. H. John's wife was Elizabeth Gilmore; Robert's was Jane Gilmore. John's descendants are buried on the place at Old Orchard. Some of the descendants of the two families helped settle the town of Belfast. John's oldest son, Robert, probably purchased the tract opposite his farm where the kite track is now located.

He was one of the heaviest tax payers, and was interested in the First Parish church, Pepperellborough, of which he was a charter member.

His first son, Robert, was owner and captain of the sloop "Polly," and lived on what is now the place known as the "Tibbetts place." Tradition says he had several very pretty daughters. Robert Patterson, during the Revolution was a member of the committee of safety and inspection.

His younger brother, David Patterson, was captain of a packet boat plying between Portland and Liverpool. He married Phoebe, daughter of Elder Samuel Banks, and was grandfather to Mary Ann Patterson, now Mrs. Jacob Gegenheimer.

From Biddeford Daily Journal Dec. 13, 1897 on the occasion of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gegenheimer.
